

AYF Curriculum

Huntingdon Alliance Youth Ministry exists to CARE for non-Christian students in practical ways, COMMUNICATE the Good News of Jesus among them, CONNECT receptive ones with other Christians, and COACH believing ones to CELEBRATE God in every area of their lives.

Our curriculum for most, if not all, of the year will be from the 30 Core Questions on the Dare to Share website. Now called Soul Fuel, the 30 Core Questions have launched a series of weekly lessons that we'll draw from for our material. In general, we will cover one question per week, except for the Wednesdays when we are having a celebration. You can browse this series at the following link: <http://www.dare2share.org/soulfuel/archives> or if you have the electronic version of this document you can click on the links for each lesson listed below. You'll notice that each of the 30 questions includes several lessons, and each lesson include a link for students, parents, and youth leaders. The 'for youth leaders' link is for you, but please at least scan the 'for students' and 'for parents' links as you prepare for each lesson. I will draw from all of these to prepare a page of discussion questions for you to use in your small group, although you may certainly come up with your own questions to get your group thinking and talking about the topic for the week. Note also, that I may draw material from one or several of the lessons under the question for the week. I will let you know a week ahead of time which lessons I'll be using so that you can know the direction we'll be headed for the next AYF gathering and can do what you need to do to prepare for your small group time.

Below, is a list of the 30 Core Questions and the lessons currently listed under each one. Please keep in mind that this list continues to grow as D2S posts new Soul Fuel lessons.
